COTEL SITEMASTER MOBILE

The Cotel SiteMaster Mobile unit is a high quality, robust communications device offering long-term reliability in the harshest of environments.

Simple Operation

The Cotel SiteMaster Mobile unit is easy to use - there's no special training required. The buttons are generously-sized as well as the large PTT button on the long lead microphone.

Lone Worker Function

The Lone Worker system compliments the Man Down function. When the radio is not operated for a pre-set period, the radio sounds a beep and requires the operator to press a button. If a button is not pressed, the SiteMaster Mobile will automatically transmit a unique ID code, which will inform a co-worker or controller that an emergency exists with the individual worker.

Detachable Front Panel

The optional RMK-3 and separation cable allow you to detach the front panel from the main unit. This provides a variety of mounting possibilities for the transceiver within the close confined space of an operator's cabin.

Durable Construction

The solid die-cast chassis and polycarbonate front panel are resistant to shock and vibration. The remote control unit has water-resistant construction equivalent to IP54, providing reliable operation in harsh conditions.

Auto Power On Function

After installation, the SiteMaster Mobile unit will have the built-in function to 'auto power on' to the right channel for the user, reducing the chances of personnel being on the wrong channel, or forgetting to switch the radio on.
